++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Warm sunshine. East coast haar possible.

Today:
A dry, warm and sunny day across much of the country, locally very warm. Haar is possible around North Sea coasts, mainly the northeast and Northern Isles. Thicker cloud could give the odd burst of rain over the Western Isles.

Tonight:
A fine end to the day with some sunshine and the cloud remaining well broken overnight, clear skies at times. Haar around some North Sea coasts.

Wednesday:
Generally dry and warm or very warm with plenty of sunshine, although cooler in the east due to brisk onshore winds. Low cloud and haar around some North Sea coasts.

Outlook for Thursday to Saturday:
A few showery bursts of rain on Thursday, but mainly dry and bright. Rain or showers in the west on Friday, brighter in the east. Bright with showers on Saturday.
